

Local 12

WKRC Cincinnati

Commissioners Deny Permission To Build Mine Tunnel

Hamilton County Commissioners today passed a resolution that could stop a proposed limestone mine in Anderson Township.

Martin Marietta plans to build a tunnel under Broadwell Road as part of the project. Commissioners say that requires county permission - since it owns the road.

Today they decided to deny the county's permission to build the tunnel. Residents say they don't want the extra traffic truck traffic, pollution, or blasting.

It's not clear what Martin Marietta's next move will be.